

REMOVE HEAVY METALS SAFELY

Zeolite Enhanced is an all-natural, mild tasting, easy to use, negatively charged, ionic, liquid mineral dietary supplement.

Zeolite Enhanced is truly a liquid zeolite, not simply a suspension of zeolite in water.

Using the only chemical free, low-heat, patent pending technology in the liquid zeolite industry, our micronized zeolite particles are absorbed into organically extracted plant derived humic molecular complexes. The result is our rich, dark, nutrient dense liquid supplement which not only delivers full spectrum cellular nutrition, but actually trades easily assimilated nutrients for toxins which it absorbs and carries away for elimination.

FOUR in ONE - Ionic Minerals, Humic, Fulvic & Zeolite

Humic and Fulvic acids are not really acids. They are organic mineral rich compressed plant life deposits that have been greatly refined through the action of naturally occurring enzymes, microbes, pressure, heat and magnetic fields over extended periods of time.

Humic acid is a plant-derived, complex, energy rich molecule that provides many nutritional benefits. It's a long organic chain with thousands of negatively charged ion exchange points. Think of it as a train with many cars. These cars are loaded with bio-available minerals and other plant-derived nutrients, (and in this case, tiny zeolite particles) which are completely available to the cells. Upon reaching the cell, the nutrients in the cars are dropped off and then, with numerous negatively charged cars empty, it loads itself with metallic, non-digestible minerals, and other toxins which it takes out to the trash.

Fulvic acid molecules, also derived from plants, are known to condition the cell wall increasing its permeability. This automatically boosts nutrient absorption and cellular hydration. Unlike Humic, which is large and complex, Fulvic is composed of very small molecules with very small cars which can access tiny deposits of toxicity that the Humic and Zeolite cannot reach. Fulvic is also one of the finest electrolytes known.

Zeolites are naturally occurring volcanic minerals that have a unique microscopic cage-like structure. Some zeolite's (notably "clinoptilolite") have been used as a dietary supplement for generations, and hold FDA GRAS (generally recognized as safe) status. While clinoptilolite has many established health applications, its recent popularity stems from its capacity as an all natural detoxification agent. The Zeolite molecule attracts and absorbs positively charged molecules (including inorganic metals and toxins) like a magnet, trapping the toxins within its cage-like structure allowing the body to safely eliminate them. Our Zeolite, because it is carried within the humic complex, comes with a rich and safe mineral replenishment system and does exactly what it's supposed to do; it takes metals and toxins from the cell in a safe controlled manner.

"...natural-product humate(s) (Humic Acid) were found to be quite effective against all 3 influenza viruses." "...As shown, the (Humic Acids) exhibited substantial efficacy against both hemorrhagic fever viruses....natural-product HA (Humic Acid) particularly so against Punta Toro A virus."
